

Our artists in our design house Blue 9 Design create intelligent graphic designs and convincing creative solutions for a variety of customers and projects. The purpose of design is to intensify your marketing message. It is not a statement of art or style. Your marketing materials must make an indelible impression on your audience and snap them into a buying mood.

One thing a well-designed visual image can do for you is build instant credibility. This opens the door and makes your prospect more receptive to your sales and marketing messages. To think of design as fluff and decoration is underestimating its powerful potential and bottom line impact.

Our expertise in this area is in the development and implementation of results driven marketing design. We provide you with solutions that are innovative yet strategically targeted. Our project experience ranges from corporate/brand identity, collateral, direct response and packaging to trade shows, advertising and annual reports.
